

Deep Brussels Thoughts, #2: David Martin has Graduated from the Bob Malone School of 5G Warfare

It's domestic terrorism! It's war! It's grifters. Things happened! We lost humanity! I'll just keep using my Neurolinguistic Programming and passive language and we'll fight the real enemy: Humanity!

Promo Code MR2.

“Well he did say...”

He said a lot of stuff.

He’s painting the corners. WITH A VERY GRAVE LOOK ON HIS FACE.

He is alternately railing against WAR and then lamenting that “we” let it happen.

There is no logical through line here.

This is a weird new kind of Kumbaya, the updated Fake Tough Talk version.

In the space of 2-3 sentences, he says it’s domestic terrorism and biowarfare perpetrated on the human race and “we” let it happen and then code switches to “investors” and then laments that the FDA and CDC....something.

Fight the domestic terrorists! (Apparently, Fauci, Baric, EcoHealth, Pfizer, and whoever the “we” back in 1965 who weaponized coronavirus or...my head is spinning.) I have been hypnotized by your 5G Warfare, Martin.

He is all over the map.

(And flashes the occasional Duper’s Delight micro-expression.)

Admittedly, I did not put all that much effort into this video editing.

Sorry.

Thus concluding another Tough Talk, We Did IT! “Summit” where the “revered experts” dissect what happened and we all eat several bags of Doritos and strangely don’t feel satisfied.

“Don’t Let Them Get Away With It!” (Mistakes were not made.)

We are so going to get “them” one day.

Those terrorists.

We lost humanity.

I was just getting poisoned by the perps, brehhh...Can we go get them now?

“We” are absolutely swimming in bullshit right now.

He’s fake.

He’s worked closely with spooks for decades and knows full well such insiders cannot blow whistles.

His claimed patent valuation technology is arm wavery of the first water.

Finally, like Malone, his entire raison d’etre in this drama seems aimed at persuading you, or reinforcing in you, a belief that there’s been a pandemic & that a novel respiratory virus was the cause of it.

All totally fake. He knows how it, too.

I don’t like to speak against those apparently on our side, but if I deduce that they’re baddies after all, then I’m going to say so.

On that very short list, I have David Martin and Robert Malone.

Coming from you Mike, this adds weight to my own very early-seated suspicions about this character David Martin. Something seemed 'off' about him when he first came onto my radar 'testifying' to Reiner Fuellmich's 'Corona Committee' thing.

Any man who habitually wears a dicky-bow tie, has a head that resembles a highly polished teak banister newel cap, and wears more chunky silver rings than a gypsy bare knuckle boxing champion inevitably sits more comfortably on my 'fruitcake list' than my 'credible whistleblower' one. 😊

All the best.

Ok, but if you know the southern born again intellectual set, you know this, the bow ties and colored socks, and seemingly excessive (current) wife praising are de rigueur.

I'm still on the fence regarding Dave's game. No doubt the patent info and other details I've not seen elsewhere would be a critical element of "Nuremberg 2.0", unless his goal is to throw all of this under the "awe shucks, we done screwed up, fergive us?" wagon..

In her recent interview with Steve K, Sasha L has argued that following the patent trail is, basically, a waste of time. She gives pretty sound reasons for that.

I state that without knowing the 'truth' of her statement.

What is real and not? Amazingly challenging these days.

Amazingly challenging is putting it mildly.

Almost every post here is like a brain dump. I'm still undecided about Steve K, but Sasha L seems to be reliable. What about Reiner F?

Following patent and company trails may not be nearly as good as following money trails, but all are worth following for legal trials, if there will ever be any?

Personally, I prefer following money trails since they are much more interesting and revealing. They usually lead to patent and company trails en route anyway.

So, submitted for everyone's approval, as Rod Serling would say, this tool looks like it could be very useful to collect your/our dot connections and brain dumps.

Their default 'brain' has tons of very interesting dot connections, which is what attracted me to it. My offline digital library has several TBs of awesome hard to find content and material too, as I am sure most of you have too. I'm working on dumping it all into a brain collection since it is difficult to access in its usual folder structure. Here is one online example.

<https://app.thebrain.com/brain/065d248e-2914-4c6e-8d64-6ca107adad19/6f71ad51-b80f-5caa-b7f4-693f8265a657>

Their default brain DB is here.

It is possible to have an online group collaboration, but I understand the many issues that would have.

Do you have a link for that Steve K. / Sasha Latypova interview? I'd like to hear her reasoning, because I distinctly remember Karen Kingston, on a Stew Peters show, reading directly from a Moderna patent which specifically stated that the technology additionally had use as a "bioweapon". And, I remember Martin, during an interview with Brian Rose, reading from a patent application that Moderna had already started developing a coronavirus vaccine prior to March of 2019, before there was any talk of a "pandemic". There's also an interview of Martin by Reiner Fuellmich, where Martin is continually stating patent numbers as he is providing information to Fuellmich's investigative committee. (And much, much more has been shown from SARS coronavirus patents from 1999 to present day.

You're welcome.

Interesting about their lack of eagerness to meet. I didn't know that.

Now I'm spit balling here. Is it possible that Kingston is coming from the worldview of the nuanced albeit ultimately 'black and white' power and ultimate supremacy of the word in law as civilising the masses, so-to-speak; and Latypova from the 'real' earth-based world where action, doing, and creating often (usually) occur in a tangential relationship to the so-called black and white world of written law?

I have a telecom civil engineering background that has 'jaded' me against the so-called black and white world of written laws and rule (and accountancy practices) because when it comes down to the brass tacks of building things that are actually grounded and not on paper, the real world trumps/tromps on the written word easily, casually and often, in my experience, with a wicked kind of humour.

Latypova real world scientist / Kingston real word lawyer.

Anyway, just an extemporaneous thought. I will be interested to see what your thoughts are after watching Latypove kind of slice and dice Kirsch.

Did you read Conspiracy Sarah's look at the Kirsch / Latypova interview? Very interesting.

It's a shame, though. Working with Sasha and Kathleen, I have a hunch that a genuine David Martin might have built a formidable legal team.

On the other hand, the controllers would be working overtime to ensure that nothing of that sort would ever happen.

I expect we'll see Tony Blair in the dock in The Hague before anyone in high places has to answer legally for their role in the Covid-19 iatrogenic catastrophe. Although there are other ways of answering.

Considering 5G, the Internet of "Biological Things", the upcoming CBDC and the demand for graphene nodes, WHAT PEOPLE CAN'T UNDERSTAND YET????

All this mumbling about patents and gain-of-function is IRRELEVANT. People are being killed and injured because of the toxicity of nanotechnology being used supposedly to "PROTECT" them. Why would you wear asbestos on you face?

Why would you instill asbestos in your brain?

Why would you inject it?

These studies are crystal clear:

<https://outraged.substack.com/p/bombshell-studies>

<https://particleandfibretoxicology.biomedcentral.com/articles/10.1186/s12989-014-0059-z> The carcinogenic effect of various multi-walled carbon nanotubes (MWCNTs) after intraperitoneal injection in rats | Particle and Fibre Toxicology |

All tested MWCNT types caused mesotheliomas.

<http://www.n3cat.upc.edu/papers/carbon%20nanotubes%20and%20cancer.pdf> Carbon nanotubes introduced into the abdominal cavity of mice show asbestos-like pathogenicity in a pilot study.

This study leads to the same conclusion regarding the carcinogenic properties of carbon nanotubes.

Despite overwhelming evidence that multi-walled carbon nanotubes cause mesothelioma in the mice tested, the technology has apparently been unleashed on humans.

People MUST NOT inhale these toxic graphene-based materials, have them inserted (as a "PCR test") or be injected with this extremely toxic nanotechnology.

The increase in cancer, among other adverse effects, is due to the use of this technology, as these studies prove, and this must be stopped immediately.

The nanotechnology used is a causal link to these innumerable observed side effects and deaths.

<https://outraged.substack.com/p/thats-what-covid-is>

“A recent study of particular objects known as "nanotubes," revered for their extraordinary strength and electrical conductivity, demonstrated that such objects tend to clump within the lungs, causing suffocation.”

“Take the experience of researchers at DuPont, who are testing microscopic tubes of carbon, known as nanotubes, valued for their extraordinary strength and electrical conductivity.

When the researchers injected nanotubes into the lungs of rats in the summer of 2002, the animals unexpectedly began gasping for breath. Fifteen percent of them quickly died. "It was the highest death rate we had ever seen,"

WHAT ELSE IS NEEDED TO UNDERSTAND THIS MURDER?

Both of them appear to have too much hubris in their manner regarding such a dire situation humanity has been forced to endure. They never appeared to have the same “concerned earnestness and presence” that Dr. McCullough and you, Dr. Yeadon had! But what was the point of Dr. Martin revealing all the related patents to the public? Was it a back handed way of announcing this was all planned years ago, and we little people better just accept this new world bc we don't have the power they do anyhow to stop it? Or they just serve to make the public “hope and believe” justice will be forthcoming? IOW, fake Pacifiers to the public and humanity. A sorry statement for one's life!

Call me naive but I just struggle with understanding the angle of a fakester, or complicit, controlled-opposition character, bringing all of this to light with the public. He still seems to be helping to paint the picture of the completely devious and evil multi-decade scheming to create a "plandemic" and is 100% accurate in his assessment that the end goal was to shoot up the population with their bioweapon. No? The misleading novel virus claim aside...what does it benefit the genocidal/depopulation cabal, to have someone like Dr. Martin bringing to awareness the architected plandemic and mRNA bioweapon? If he's fake, why is he doing this? His efforts help partially awaken and build the resistance to the overall tyranny and globalist agenda, no? I just don't get it...who to follow and trust.

A couple of thoughts:

1. "Controlled Opposition" is now a full fledged Mass Formation Variant and a thought terminating cliché. It was rolled out early on by 5G Warfare Bob Malone and employed on Alex Berenson. Unbelievably effective at wrecking people's critical thinking skills and turning EVERYTHING into an ad hominem "who can I trust"? template. Which you allude to.
2. People are complex. The most effective agendas require True Believers. Like the FDA workers who did not know they were doing performance art trials.
3. I could theorize benefits of having people doing angry nothing burger performances and never mentioning DOMANE or DTRA and calling out Bob Malone on the same panel. But that is precisely where much of the Op ran through. That is awkward. Laser pointing to "humanity" and "rah-rah" and then deftly switching into some Kumbaya "humanity is broken" bullshit def. would have some use. But you'll have to consider all of this.
4. We didn't get where we are in humanity because people were NOT going along.
5. Have a wonderful day. Question everything. Question me. Question this Stack. Maybe I am "controlled opposition" here to Black Pill you by pointing out that three years go by and we are doing happy talk interviews during a Happy Talk/Tough Talk Nothing Burger CHD summit.

He doesn't name the power behind whatever the hell is going on. In the longer version of his speech, he takes a swipe at people who want the focus to be on DARPA and the DoD.

He always refers to "we". I didn't do this. I wouldn't do this. I don't know anyone who did or would. He's including regular folks in the blame for something they did not do, do not know happened, and who have no idea who he is or what he said in Brussels a couple weeks ago. There is the danger that people think by listening to him and feeling anger (and guilt) they have actually done something...when they have not. A leader would say what he believes happened, how it was done, who was behind it, and what we can do to stop them going forward.

To me, Martin has always had a new age strange vibe. Something is off. His whole message is basically "something bad was done by some unknown people on purpose and it's all our fault and someone should do something about it."

Just like in all wars, the oligarchs play both sides. Rest assured, you'll never hear the controlled opposition puppets go "too far" in their revelations, their job is to keep on from thinking further, a literal backstop, laser pointing. And "we" means everyone but you, so you're the one who isn't thinking correctly. It's the same method of using bots/trolls on social media. To make you think you're outnumbered and wrong, because "everyone else" KNOWS the "truth". More psychological manipulation playing on the basic human emotion of wanting to be accepted and not wanting to be tricked. Plus, they believe if they tell their victims what's going to happen then they are absolved from any karmic repercussions for their dastardly deeds. A weird form of "informed consent", I guess. The "predictive programming" we see in movies and TV shows is widely used. The 1979 all-star movie "The China Syndrome" (first movie of an accidental nuclear power plant disaster) was released just 12 days before the meltdown at Three Mile Island. The movie "White Noise" was released 3 months before the toxic train derailment in East Palestine, Ohio, the same location parts of the movie were filmed. The movie "Contagion" from 2011, is an exact script of the story of how Covid supposedly started - a "deadly" cross-species virus comes out of a wet market in China and infects the entire world.

There are 1000s of more examples of Hollywood accurately "predicting" the future.

Hi Mike,

I won't disagree with you regarding Malone; but, have you viewed everything David E. Martin?

- Martin has stated during several interviews that there is no isolated SARS-Cov-2 coronavirus; but, early on, both he and Mikovits were lax and often said "virus"; but when pressed as to whether they believed SARS-Cov-2 exists, both said "No, it does not exist."

- Martin assembled a 205 page "The Fauci/COVID-19 Dossier" listing all of Fauci's felonies.

https://www.davidmartin.world/wp-content/uploads/2021/01/The_Fauci_COVID-19_Dossier.pdf

- DR. DAVID E MARTIN GIVES EXPLOSIVE JAW DROPPING INFORMATION IN CANADIAN ZOOM MEETING

<https://rumble.com/v153ybt-dr.-david-e-martin-gives-explosive-jaw-dropping-information-in->

canadian-zoo.html

At Time = 2:00 of the above video, Martin specifically stated, "But I want to make sure we stipulate something out of the gate. This is not a public health situation. This is not even a "science" situation. And, while I appreciate the public health people and the scientists who love to talk about the nuance of this, it is like commenting of the merits of firearms at a shooting. THIS IS A CASE OF MURDER. IT IS NOT A CASE OF DISEASE. IT IS NOT A CASE OF PANDEMIC. THIS IS A CASE OF MURDER. And people who are currently doing the delivery of the agent of that murder are in fact people who wear lab coats. If they wore hoodies; If they wore anything else, we would call them murderers. Right now we call them "doctors". The fact of the matter is, this is premeditated, global terrorism. This is premeditated domestic terrorism; and, this is premeditated racketeering. And, the reason why I say that is because the evidence is that Canada and the United States collaborated...(go listen to this)... Time = 4:22 So, anyone who wants to sit here and pretend like this is anything other than premeditated murder, is actually watching freight cars roll across Germany and wondering where neighbors are going..." Dear Edmond,

I want to thank you particularly for taking the time to bring this to my attention.

In this speech, I find myself in full agreement with him.

I'm confused because I thought I recalled him recently presenting on gain of function viruses and I don't think that's what's happened.

This information, new to me, does change how I see David Martin, in a positive way.

He's extraordinarily blunt. He reminds me of me, in that respect.

We both see this event as a monumental crime.

In my mind, I also see this as & animated by great evil.

Before 2020, I rarely used the word evil. Probably I used it more before the age of 12 than since then, because for much of my primary school days, I was a keen member of my local church choir. I was exposed to what I recall as a wonderful canon of music, psalms, hymns, readings and prayers.

Since 2020, I alight on the word evil most days. Now, I'm no student of these things & I'm just describing what I see as best I can.

Quite a few people have a problem with describing something or somebody as evil. I respect that, used to be of that perspective myself. But I've no doubt about it.

Many thanks again and best wishes to you!

Thank you, Dr. Yeadon for speaking the truth. When incongruous outbursts of inappropriate humor or strange references of inside humor with his sidekick always seemed off. Both of them.

Malone showed his colors early, Martin seemed to have good bona fides. But his odd delivery, anyway, I sincerely appreciate you validating my instincts, once again. God bless you.

Dr Mike, while certain characteristics of Dr Dave are not what I adhere to, Eye of Horus tat, Masonic company logo et al, someone who serves Lucifer can still be truthful. I wouldn't necessarily dismiss that it's raining outside just because one said it was so.

On that note, you would have been at the heart of things during, or just after, much of the timeline he discussed.

Where are the facts wrong? You should know, you were in the middle of it as a leader.

Forget the messenger, let's use AI and superimpose a benign figure exposing the same information. What if any part of it is misleading and/or purposeful disinformation?

Seems cut and dry to me, it's not opinion, it's documentation, and to poo-poo it out-of-hand due to who's relaying it is about the most "anti-scientific method" reaction I've seen lately from anyone, especially such a prominent figure as yourself.

The specific concern I have & it's the same one with Dr Robert Malone, is he's emphasising a key aspect of the PsyOp.

That is, continuing to spin the notion there's a nasty engineered respiratory virus on the loose.

We have what I regard as unequivocal evidence that there wasn't a pandemic at all.

See numerous papers & interviews given by Dr Denis Rancourt.

Drs Martin and Malone cannot be unaware of this work which, as far as I know, is unique.

I'm 99% sure there's never been a pandemic (I can't rule out local releases) and logically then, there wasn't in circulation a novel respiratory virus. If there was one, it added nothing detectable to all causes mortality.

In the face of such strong evidence, to not even mention considerable doubt in the virus narrative is not plausible other than its deliberate.

So you see, it's not relevant that there may or may not be patents.

Imagine the power of Drs Martin & Malone repeating what I've repeatedly stated.

All the soft clues fit the “no new respiratory virus threat”, too. The authoritarians gave the orders, then promptly ignored them.

If the narrative was true, they’d be at risk, too. So would the Queen. Yet they all acted unafraid, meaning imo they knew there was no new health threat.

Another piece of very obvious evidence that few seem to have picked up on is this. The perpetrators have full control of main media and internet platforms. Anything appearing repeatedly on these is there deliberately.

Why then was the Fauci, gain of function, Ralph Baric, Wuhan, Bat Lady narrative pushed several times?

Why embarrass themselves?

I put it to you t was to force the audience into a false choice. Was the new virus natural or lab made? Instead of asking “what is the strength of the evidence for a new & lethal virus?”

Now, I think it very likely that the perpetrators will repeat this fear provoking nonsense. They are absolutely skewered if it comes out there never was a pandemic or novel pathogen.

Do you see now why I’m so vexed?

Now, I do recognize than mine is a minority position. Fortunately, science isn’t a consensus field.

Many others think there’s been a virus, but few with the combination of the smarts to discern truth from reception and the credibility to be listened to.

If I’m right & I believe I am, can you see how lethal their words can be?

Thank you for your challenge, I welcome it.

Best wishes

Mike

It started back then when I learned an answer to a question that had perplexed me for years.

Why would someone trade Eternity in Paradise for even 100 years of owning the entire world?

Why would a human choose to serve spiritual Evil entities when the best they could get out of it is a short time of advantage, at the price of forfeiting never-ending Eternity in Paradise with God?

Turns out, they truly think Satan can de-throne Father, so, the delusion is most deep within their souls. And I'm trying to straighten them out.

Dr Mike, from the beginning of the subject at hand, I've followed non-mainstream media, and I think I've known about you since around when you first went public.

Full disclosure, you are among the most likeable chaps out there in the space.

So, I wanted to try and learn your most up-to-date detailed hypothesis, along with Dr Dave.

I watched Dr D's recent presentation with your points in mind, and he indeed leaves it hanging on a biological virus.

However, if I may, please allow me to propose that the patents and GOF research is an important part of the timeline as it's what the Synthetic Biology technology is mimicked from to some extent.

I watched the vid ""A Fake Pandemic" Dr 'Reiner Fuellmich' Dr. 'Mike Yeadon' 'Joseph Molitorisz' 'Meredith Miller'" and it seemed to me that you stopped short and left it at "no pandemic or virus", never touching the third rail of Synthetic Biology.

I do believe Dr D has mentioned nanotechnology, so,

I was wondering where you stand on nanotech's part in this puzzle or not.

As the professor at West Point said, weaponized nanoparticulate/particle technology is available to address specific targets.

Some hypothesis, how much, if any, do you concur please?

-Yes, a biological/viral agent was not used for and/or caused a pandemic.

-Localized releases of a weaponized synthetic biological agent fueled the psy-op by making people ill.

-We all know the drill lockdowns and medical restrictions et al played in instilling fear et al

-People so afraid of facing what comes next willingly lined up to be injected with the unknown.

-That "unknown" turns out to be completely non-biological, instead it mimics biology, it's Syn-Bio, synthetic, biology.

-This syn-bio tech can operate at a sub-atomic level, and enter every organ in the body at will, including the brain.

-This synthetic biology can enter a cell and re-program it's DNA.

It changes an organism's genome. It's genes.

-When an organism's genetics are changed, it causes what existed before to no longer exist, replaced by the new GMO organism.

-A weapon of mass destruction, made from synthetic-biology, was unleashed to exterminate most of humanity, and genetically modify those left, into a mixture of man and machine.

Able to connect to the cloud wirelessly via synthetic brain neurons et al

the same as the Borg connect to the Collective in Star Trek.

A wireless interfacing of AI with GMO Humanity

-Albeit to no avail, as Almighty God has everyone's soul safe in hand, and our physical bodies are destined to be returned to dust anyway, to be replaced with our spiritual bodies, so really, this is all very short-lived, quite temporary.

LIKE \(1\)

My broad brush opinion is that the synthetic biology people assume way too much about our real level of understanding of biology.

I'm much more sceptical than many about the more elaborate concerns.

I don't think we can intervene without damaging things.

Hi Dr. Yeadon. I'm sorry to bother you with all of my questions. I've wondered, when you say sarscov2 isnt a novel virus and it isnt a respiratory virus are you saying it's impossible for spike protein to bind with ace-2 receptors in the lungs, to cause lung inflammation and damage? Do you believe spike protein exists? It's been biopsied from autopsies, found in the brain of people who died from encephalitis brought on by spike protein from both the jabs and the virus. Are all of these medical articles made up? Even the ones published by independant doctors who want to get to the bottom of things? Are you saying GOF viruses which may be manipulated to become more infectious do not exist?

I've heard you mention RSV in babies is fake, there is no such thing as a respiratory virus. The RSV vaccine caused ADE. It caused worsening disease. So does this mean the virus, vaccine, ADE, all of it is fake? It's all a giant theater? They even make up times where they killed people who were exposed to the virus after taking their drugs? Where they pulled the vaccine off the market because it caused ADE?

Thank you.

Blessings peace and joy to you Dr.Yeadon

I agree, no pandemic what soever. Far less admissions for repiratory infections at hospitals. No significant death numbers. It started 2021 got worse 2022.

I am not even certain, what is causing the deaths. If it was just the vax, what is it? I think the Focus on Spike Proteins could be misleading, because then the producers of this technology could just claim to make another modRNA less harmful. I am not even sure if the whole theory about the functioning of the modRNA is just fantasy and modelling. I mean it could be a lot of other struff, the nanoparticles, the DNA of E Coli etc. But why is Sweden not experiencing the same regarding deaths? <https://www.cureus.com/articles/149410-estimation-of-excess-mortality-in-germany-during-2020-2022#!/>

I think this is a valid critique. Like many examples you've pointed to, Sage, there are distinct elements of performance which can be interpreted as manipulative. Martin has been, ever since I first listened to him 4 or 5 years ago, a performer and a provocateur. He does bring information to the podium, which can be enlightening, but it is often presented as a series of 'Did you know?' prompts which do not construct a wholistic picture, but rather bombards the viewer/listener with intentionally jarring factoids.

Some of this is useful and even educational—but it is dependent on the audience, and where they are at on their journey. Those with a deeper perspective will find this presentation wanting, and indeed, a rehash of so many things that have been presented before. It feels like ad nauseum to the well-studied, no doubt.

The question I come to is motivation. He is simultaneously correct that this was both a bio terror attack and a financial pursuit (amongst other things), but there certainly are deeper questions to ask. Why not go there? Who is his audience, what does he seek to achieve?

In nearly every presentation I have seen of his, he nearly always closes with a message of the importance of love and the positive aspects of community and humanity. And to be honest, I don't think he's wrong on this bit, even if it feels candy-coated. In these bits he often reads to me like a preacher, spinning emotion. And as others have noted, it does have a paralyzing effect, like a stunning blow. Ok, now what, Dave?

Some have joked that we all ought to go out and buy bow ties. 😊

What I see is that performers like Martin, because they are charismatic, can evoke the hero-need response in people who are looking to have this void filled. Those that are comfortable seeking and critically evaluating information on their own may perceive him as 'false'.

My own observation on Martin is that he has pieced together a goodly amount of the picture (with a particular emphasis on his wheelhouse of patents), but the manner in which he constructs the view is not done with clarity—certainly not the kind of keen razor that Sasha brings to bear. It may be that he simply is not good at this kind of delivery; indeed, I have never seen him do it, despite bringing too many facts to remember to the table, rattling off patent numbers and dates to dizzying effect. It takes a certain kind of mind and clarity to pare and shape the picture as Sasha does—clear, unapologetic, and irrefutable. His approach is much more theatrical and provocateur-like, which can be engaging for some, but lacking in resonance.

In the final analysis, I am not sure it really matters how any one of these speakers frames their delivery. They aren't going to really change anything. They never were. I think RFK Jr. knows this too. They can nudge and move people to empty their wallets, perhaps. The only force that can exert the power needed is people—lots of them. No really, lots of them. Those people aren't going to be driven by speeches, or papers, or a wall of substack posts. Ultimately, it will be a steadfast desire for justice, morality, ethics, and love for their fellow human beings, that will.

But, I think, (unfortunately) the people are not ready. Not ready to look the pain in the eye and take hold of it. Which means: there's more pain ahead.

It all depends on how their cards get played. RFK Jr knows a lot. The question is, will he go there? He can't kick off his effort like that—it won't work. But Is there a point where he will throw down? Maybe, but I'm not putting all the eggs in that basket. It would be foolish to do so, but never say never.

It's no different than predictive programming (use lots of adjectives - plant pictures in minds, feel the different emotions in your chakras, they will spin the listener's.) They will be a bit of a pain and fairly excitable but they will recognize the shift... The ones who tune us out or shut down when we attempt to inform them, have a plan of how to avoid them or just prepare yourself. Yes... it's a bit nauseating. But putting aside all the blowhard academia/government b.s. ...

He claims to be a "futurist" which (having known one of those very closely over the last 20 years) I take to mean "self-appointed genius with high IQ but oftentimes wanting EQ that struggles with the cognitive dissonance of impotence in the face of world-sized Problems." His writing (even going back to 2009) comes off as authentic. He has grappled with what to do about the Monster (which I think he correctly intuited in 2009) and how "we" need to take ownership of our role in allowing it to exist. And continue to exist. That seems to line up pretty squarely with what Sage is pointing out about his talks today. He probably knows he can only say so much before he's conveniently made dead. At the same time, he's trying to convince enough people to get as emotional as he is about the mendacity and duplicity that "WE" have allowed to be foisted upon ourselves in our gluttony and sloth.

From Martin's blog in 2009:

So, as we look through the soiled diaper on the little baby called 2010, we find ourselves realizing that the FDIC accounting creativity and actuarial acrobatics is merely the warm-up for what Congress will face between mid-January and the end of February at which time the mystery moves into the realm of trillions, not these pesky billions.

For all those who suggested that we weathered the storm and we're coming out with a healthier financial sector, be cautious. Remember that the fee income that led to bank profitability in an era where NO meaningful commercial lending origination was going on was based on moving government money – commissions on TARP on the way in and commissions on TARP on the way out. Oh, sure, technically this couldn't have actually happened but, remember, the same entities that jumped to aid the Treasury in managing bailout funds actually wound up being consumers of the very funds they were moving and, yes, they collected fees for moving taxpayer money. The automotive industry got its bite at the apple with clunkers. The real estate market got its bite twice with homebuyer tax credits and Freddie and Fannie illusory capacity. And the banks got the windfall by moving it all and collecting fees each time anything moved.

The Bretton Woods and Nixon debt currency experiment is ready for examination. The vaunted institutions that were promoted to “protect” the American citizen from the recklessness of the past and to insure that some perversion of Keynesian monetary theory persisted have lost their moorings. No new acronyms are going to rescue us from ourselves. Our reflexive response to Irrational Fear which has led us into countless, unconsidered yawning chasms, deferred accountability, and reckless excesses must be brought into refinement.

In the throes of the Cold War in 1956 (the year after Rosa Parks’ bold stand for equality which was met with oppression), we intertwined our national identity to our money enshrining as our national motto “In God We Trust” – a motto that was not derived from piety but from the presence of that statement on coinage minted to unify the nation during the Civil War. I think what we really meant was that in the debt dependent American Consumer Capitalism (and in the government institutions that are there to shield us from our own wanton excesses) we trust. Well both the unconsidered consumption and the prophylaxis for irresponsibility have failed us. What took the chosen ones in the desert 40 years of wandering to learn took us 50 years. Following an idol animated by fear and greed gets you nowhere. Our “promised land” – then defined as “not communism” – has been leveraged and the note has come due. So there’s some gallows humor in realizing that it is China – the last bastion of our greatest animating fear for which we had to proclaim our “Trust” in “God” – that now holds the Sword of Damocles over the great experiment.

As we peer into that which is coming, I am convinced that prudence dictates a careful consideration of precisely how we want to manifest a new future. And here, I’m inspired by my other two readings to which I made reference at the beginning of this piece – Invictus and The Magna Carta Manifesto. You see, these two books merge a most insightful narrative evoking the possibility of a more conscious, considered future. Whether it is the Springboks “One Team One Country” that helped carry South Africa past the certain ravages of bloodshed that was thought inevitable at apartheid’s end, or whether it was the truce embodied in the 1215 accords at Runnymede – the Magna Carta and the Charter of the Forest – in which economic, religious, and government tyranny were addressed by people dictating the terms under which THEY would be governed, the essential message of both is that we, the people, must first accept and then expect responsible actions from each other and then our governments. One way or another, we’re going to need to re-examine “In God We Trust” through the lens of E Pluribus Unum.

There is no democracy -- as there should not be... most people injected Rat Juice... the mob is obviously not capable of governing...

They are so easily controlled - that they must be controlled.

The world is run by:

The Protocols Of Zion

Published 1903

- * Place our agents and helpers everywhere
- * Take control of the media and use it in propoganda for our plans
- * Start fights between different races, classes and religions
- * Use bribery, threats and blackmail to get our way
- * Use Freemasonic Lodges to attract potential public officials
- * Appeal to successful people's egos
- * Appoint puppet leaders who can be controlled by blackmail
- * Abolish all rights and freedoms, except the right of force by us
- * Sacrifice people (including Jews sometimes) when necessary
- * Eliminate religion; replace it with science and materialism
- * Control the education system to spread deception and destroy intellect

- * Rewrite history to our benefit
- * Create entertaining distractions
- * Corrupt minds with filth and perversion
- * Keep the masses in poverty and perpetual labor
- * Use gold to manipulate the markets, cause depressions etc.
- * Introduce a progressive tax on wealth
- * Replace sound investment with speculation
- * Make long-term interest-bearing loans to governments
- * Give bad advice to governments and everyone else

"I care not what puppet is placed on the throne of England to rule the Empire,
 ... The man that controls Britain's money supply controls the British Empire.
 And I control the money supply." Nathan
 Rothschild <https://twitter.com/KirbySommers/status/1567945974537936897>

“Once a nation parts with the control of its currency and credit, it matters not who makes the nation’s laws. ... Until the control of the issue of currency and credit is restored to government and recognized as its most sacred responsibility, all talk of the sovereignty of parliament and of democracy is idle and futile.” — Mackenzie King, Canadian Prime Minister 1935-1948.

"I am a most unhappy man. I have unwittingly ruined my country. A great industrial nation is controlled by its system of credit. Our system of credit is concentrated. The growth of the nation, therefore, and all our activities are in the hands of a few men. We have come to be one of the worst ruled, one of the most completely controlled and dominated Governments in the civilized world no longer a Government by free opinion, no longer a Government by conviction and the vote of the majority, but a Government by the opinion and duress of a small group of dominant men." - Woodrow Wilson, after signing the Federal Reserve into existence

“Some of the biggest men in the United States, in the field of commerce and manufacture, are afraid of somebody, are afraid of something. They know that there is a power somewhere so organized, so subtle, so watchful, so interlocked, so complete, so pervasive that they had better not speak above their breath when they speak in condemnation of it.” — Woodrow Wilson

“The conscious and intelligent manipulation of the organized habits and opinions of the masses is an important element in democratic society. Those who manipulate this unseen mechanism of society constitute an invisible government which is the true ruling power of our country. ... We are governed, our minds are molded, our tastes formed, our ideas suggested, largely by men we have never heard of.” – Edward Bernays – Propaganda

David Martin has attacked at least twice Rand Paul for failing to deliver the final blow to Fauci in the Senate testimonies, using the decisive information that Martin emailed the Senator or someone on his team against Fauci, regarding the GoF narrative.

The problem is that Rand Paul or his advisors realized that it was impossible to end Fauci's career with that evidence.

Simply put, GoF is pfake, it is another thing, and Martin was, in my opinion, handing poisoned information to Paul in order to harm Paul if he used that information.

David Martin, Agent of Chaos?

Also, in his talk to MD4CE Martin said that the virus didn't exist in reality and only existed inside computers, and that it was not useful to try to convince people that viruses did not exist at all in the first place. I think Martin plays all the sides of all games, for some reason.

I think they were aiming at other charges.

As experience has shown repeatedly, basically no one cares when certain protected individuals lie to Congress, under oath, or to a Court of Law. They are protected. In other words, the protected are expected to lie to protect secrets. It was probably somewhere on the job description, and I would not be surprised if Fauci still has the clipping from the newspaper where the job was first offered in the 1970s.

That's very interesting that in a talk with D4CE he is reported as having said "the virus didn't exist in reality, only existed inside computers..."

I don't think he said that in his recent testimony in patents for various viruses. That's what has triggered me. Perhaps he doesn't agree with my take, that whipping the general public into believing there's a scary new & occasionally deadly virus washing around, reinforces the PsyOp?

We in the general public have to make an effort to overcome that fear.

However, I see that other fears are being propagated to substitute the fear of the virus. On one hand, Power needs to spread helplessness and ignorance in the people; On the other hand, many that are members of the people seem to be completely addicted to ignorance and helplessness.

So, what's the point in learning the truth that viruses are not pathogenic if then the hydra of fear grows three or four more heads?

These fears are all a distraction from rational fears, which are the erosion of civil rights in every Nation. Human life depends on having civil rights as much as on water and air.

I believe immunity is a basic bodily function (I heal dogs and goats, so far of viper bites by boosting and utilizing the animal's own immune system. Over 10 bites, 0 deaths.) Survivors build immunity. If populations are wiped out after exposure, there are no survivors. Just because an action accomplishes one goal doesn't mean others are not being accomplished as well.

The body learns from things that happen to it, but it's probably not because of an innate "immune system" as described by allopathic medicine. All I KNOW FOR A FACT is that 2 days after envenomation by a Copperhead snake, the area is less inflamed than immediately after the bite. Oh yes, and by the second day it is a challenge to keep the animal quiet, especially the goat! The wound does not expand, the puncture wounds simply form a scab, dry up and fall off. And my boy dog barely reacts at all to the venom.

Do you remember a TV movie from the 80s called The Day After? It was very frightening to me at the time. Idiots and their bombs and their mistakes destroyed civilization. My older brother and my father were discussing the movie. My older brother was fond of saying "better dead than red". He and my father agreed that nuclear war was preferable to a Soviet takeover. I was appalled. I asked my dad if he was serious. He said he was. I told him it wasn't our planet to destroy. He was unmoved. And, then, for reasons that I cannot explain I blurted out, "Communism is contrary to human nature. Human beings want to be free. It will not last. I cannot last." He looked at me like I was crazy. The Soviet Union had been in existence long before he was born. Six years later, the Berlin Wall fell.

Whatever they (whoever they are) have planned for us, it will not last. Human beings are not meant to live that way.

But they (whoever they are) will hurt and kill many people in their efforts.

The Soviet Union lasted about seventy years. Millions of people lived and died in that time period.

We cannot change the past, but we can stop them in the future. And mitigate the harm.

No black pills.

Ok. Why do none of the 'thought leaders' who oppose the very obvious plan to murder millions advocate for insurrection?

Very obviously what is happening here is not corruption nor is it a mistake...

This is mass murder -- with all leaders across all countries on board - the MSM - medical boards -- and last but most definitely not least -- the DOD.

Do you seriously think a law suit is going to force the to change course?

Do you think there is going to be a Nuremburg 2.0?

If law suits were effective in combatting crimes against humanity then surely Saddam would have taken the US to court and forced them to back down. Good luck with that.

Remember how they stuffed this fellas speech down his throat when he pushed back <https://youtu.be/JGnGFaJqmzU> This is what they think of your law suits.

The rules do not apply to them. They make the rules.

They are conducting war against the global population ... there is only one way to fight back against that.

Not that I'd advocate anyone trying such a thing... unless one is ready to die to oppose those who are murdering babies.

And at the end of the day be careful what you wish for --- there is a reason why every leader is on board with the extermination plan ---

Clearly Malone and Martin are to be held at arm's length.

Malone's principal task is to drown us in 5G warfare theorising and to get us to believe there was no possible deliberate malice in the clot shots because 'the harm couldn't be calibrated': absurd reasoning, rather like saying a bomb isn't a bomb because you can't say precisely how many it will kill and maim.... Martin's posturing bow tie or not, seems to be going nowhere.

It's rather ridiculous to condemn or suspect Naomi Wolf and others as bad actors for not instigating an insurrection: that would mean jail or assassination - in any country, not just the US!

Suicide is not a sensible option in any cause however just. Even alluding to insurrection could, as things stand, get you locked up forever.

That people are making totally ineffectual protests and speeches may or may not make them 'controlled opposition' and it's important not to descend into paranoia. For instance, the Dutch protests are of course going nowhere - the BIG clamp-down is clearly coming in 2024-5, telegraphed by the WHO treaty, etc, - and so they can be tolerated by the WEF-ers and bankers. It keeps the masses quiet in the meantime, just as pointless protesting on Substack does.

I would say that Naomi Wolf's material on the Pfizer trial data is excellent for those of us who are still engaged in getting people to understand the toxicity of the vaxxes, and the corruption of the regulators who certainly knew what they were authorising. The focus is narrow and documented. Ditto Peter Mc Cullough.

The 'CCP plot' angle is of course a dead-end as a fully satisfying explanation, but that does not make Dr Wolf Con Opp. The role of the Chinese in this remains, however, very murky indeed.

But I did note that early on in 2021 Dr Wolf made an observation about a 'resource crisis' being at the root of this and going some way to explaining timing, and this deserves further investigation by her and others.

To my knowledge she has never returned to that point. The energy and resource crisis and the end of possible economic growth lies behind the developing financial collapse and, well, everything.....

People in the 'resistance' almost never mention this, being largely ignorant of energy matters. Fools who do glimpse it as a possible motivation mostly rant about 'evil Malthusians'. It's all rather pathetic.

'Over-population, depletion, degradation' and the actions taken by the planners to deal with them: the triad which will determine our lives in the coming decades - if we live that long.

To understand the energy crisis and its implications, I suggest looking at Gail Tverberg at 'Our Finite World'. and Tim Morgan at 'Surplus Energy Economics', they convey the basics well in a succinct manner.

"I care not what puppet is placed on the throne of England to rule the Empire,
 ... The man that controls Britain's money supply controls the British Empire.
 And I control the money supply." Nathan

Rothschild <https://twitter.com/KirbySommers/status/1567945974537936897>

“Once a nation parts with the control of its currency and credit, it matters not who makes the nation’s laws. ... Until the control of the issue of currency and credit is restored to government and recognized as its most sacred responsibility, all talk of the sovereignty of parliament and of democracy is idle and futile.” — Mackenzie King, Canadian Prime Minister 1935-1948.

"I am a most unhappy man. I have unwittingly ruined my country. A great industrial nation is controlled by its system of credit. Our system of credit is concentrated. The growth of the nation, therefore, and all our activities are in the hands of a few men. We have come to be one of the worst ruled, one of the most completely controlled and dominated Governments in the civilized world no longer a Government by free opinion, no longer a Government by conviction and the vote of the majority, but a Government by the opinion and duress of a small group of dominant men." - Woodrow Wilson, after signing the Federal Reserve into existence

“Some of the biggest men in the United States, in the field of commerce and manufacture, are afraid of somebody, are afraid of something. They know that there is a power somewhere so organized, so subtle, so watchful, so interlocked, so complete, so pervasive that they had better not speak above their breath when they speak in condemnation of it.” — Woodrow Wilson

“The conscious and intelligent manipulation of the organized habits and opinions of the masses is an important element in democratic society. Those who manipulate this unseen mechanism of society constitute an invisible government which is the true ruling power of our country. ... We are governed, our minds are molded, our tastes formed, our ideas suggested, largely by men we have never heard of.” – Edward Bernays – Propaganda

Naomi was also a vocal critic and analyst of the George W. Bush administrations policies. I remember she was worrying publicly about whether she was going to be arrested as a dissident.

Take this 2007 piece—"Fascist America"—from the Guardian and tweet it a little bit to replace "terror" with "pandemic", "anti-war" with "anti-vaxx" exchange a few other nouns, and you will see she told about the situation at that time is an identical twin of today's situation. As Sage points out, it's the same op.

<https://www.theguardian.com/world/2007/apr/24/usa.comment>

True, Naomi was a Rhodes scholar, which is a bit of tell, and doesn't provide any viable solutions, but I think she is very useful as an artist illustrating the mess we are in. Because if you can picture something accurately, you can get a better grasp of it, which may help you in defending against it or avoiding it.

On the other hand, Lenin is said to have said, "The best way to control the opposition is to lead it ourselves." And I guess that's got to be one of the Ten Commandments of Politics.

I subscribe to Nami's Substack, and I have noted that a lot of her writing, as is also the case with Robert Malone's writing, tends towards personal anecdote and "journaling" as opposed to journalism. He goes to Hawaii and hangs out with kids or he gets up on the farm at dawn to brush down the horses. She is alone in house and stalked by a grizzly, or she falls in the snow and can't get up and has to be rescued by a passing motorist. And I'm thinking, "Is THIS what I subscribed to their Substacks in order to read?"

I quite agree! And cats! I've just adopted a new cat—a seven-year-old Munchkin whose owners decided they could no longer keep her in their apartment because the landlord complained. In their place I would have found a new apartment. I got the impression that the husband was not unhappy to get rid of the cat and took the landlord's order as an opportunity, while the wife is genuinely distraught.

The cat, Coco is currently hiding in the corner under my desk right next to the router. Fortunately it isn't G5! I expect it will take her a while to settle in.

Your work on Pfizer is excellent.

Do you understand that Pfizer was a late add and Moderna was contacted in January by Trump per Ivanka?

Do you understand that the Security State controlled the manufacture of the bioweapon injections?

And provided indemnity for all parties concerned?

that all the injections were considered military property until injected into the arms of hapless humans?

Why did doctors inject pregnant women? Why?

Did PFIZER MAKE THEM?

Do you understand that the United States Military used public private partnerships and massive contracts to send these injections all over the world?

If the USM is not as pissed off and punitive with Pfizer RIGHT NOW as you are....to what do you attribute that?

Yes, but I seem to have a different way of perceiving and receiving such things. It WAS among other things an investor thing. AND warfare. At the top, the orchestrators wage the war for i.a. eugenic and planet tidying purposes so they don't have to stumble over members of the hoi polloi at every step - but at the same time they profit financially being invested in those business fields with their tax evasion foundations (not to mention unknown slush funds). And additionally, it is also an investor thing in the sense that it is totally true that executing these schemes relies heavily on financial incentivitation, from getting large corps (at higher levels personal union but at lower levels non initiated boards have to agree) to participate in fascist projects - to incentivitation each and every ventilation and remdesivir death to take place. So that part is indeed true and should be made public as he does, for whatever reason with whatever intention. Limited hangouts in my view can be useful too, many of them combined (from various releasers) give a more complete picture. Of course only if skepticism is on high alert and you help with that a LOT!

It is a fact for me that whatever picture of reality I was able to piece together, started with such nuggets and my thinking about them further and seeing which others complement or contradict them or can be reconciled. But that took me several years. And with the upcoming pervasive censoring through we know WHO, it may be that there is not time left for this kind of process and then, indeed, the kind of performance might do more harm than good. But... We are here in a comment section. They were in a meeting room and will never find or read or understand your texts. "ACCEPTABLE" is the precise problem which led us right where we are.

But I've had this thematic discussion about 150,000 times and it's just bargaining.

And each generation bargains that it's too hard and we are terrified and cowed of conflict so we go along. And pass it down to our kids to deal with. And each generation will have new Middle Managers, anointed, selected, employed.

What you confirm and many do as well is that "Truth is like a Lion" is merely an empty platitude for most people, even if they are burying family.

Cross it out, that is an answer and a decision. I am for it. It would mean a certain imposition for the beginners. They would have to be told straight out that unfortunately they are the generation who are not in a position any more to cower and be too embarrassed to speak facts. As that has been done by too many before them and now is when we are running out of time and the one thing hits the other. I say, we need to formally advise them to shift frames or they will remain unable to communicate adequately about this matter and to process adequately. K Watts has made this quite clear with the frame shift, and S Latypova too. They analyze legislation resp manufacturing bureaucratic and production processes. You mainly analyze public communications (laser pointer etc). And J J Couey has analyzed the working of infectious particles. It is my feeling that these four combined are what has made the change that we have seen so far. Difficult to argue, maybe. But my feeling anyway. - What to do, then? If Martin speech insufficient /harmfully confusing people. Who should speak, who will be heard, how else to reach them efficiently?

You mean as in inciting citizens to real hands on action so they can later be framed as the domestic terrorists? That would be bad but I understood this more as a moral condemnation. Justly reframing Baric et al as domestic terrorists was in my perception a kind of demoting their status in society which to me seems useful especially when (here, European) politicians are listening. I find that overall useful. He pointed out just how extremely premeditated it all was with certain coronavirus research since the 1970s. I like it that the politicians were exposed to that thought. I just can't really fathom why he is doing that. He doesn't look the part of the typical good guy, just as Malone, they are too slick, smooth, professional, cool as cucumbers. Humans are that cool while performing at their top level are usually performing on behalf of their employers. Real people get less smooth, more authentic while advocating for their OWN sakes. That is something that puts me off all the time. This unperturbed performance clearly (intuitively saying) on behalf of third parties. Ok, or they are on zombifying nootropic medications, but that too is a thing that in my assumption rather transhumanist leaning persons would tend to do.

I see him not only talking to me. I see him talking to people in the audience. They have a more shallow knowledge of the issue and if they get influenced in the direction of moral condemnation that is a progress. We here don't have to be initialized to considering that as morally condemnable. But he is talking to a beginners audience. I separate the target audiences. It may be a too a-moral approach but I think it's pragmatic to not only evaluate why things are said and done but also whether detached from their potentially harmful intention they may have a beneficial even if unintended effect. Like when we were discussing Trump. Someone may dislike him and may like RFK Jr better. Yet for keeping speech right and right to weapons it may be more useful to overcome the antipathy one feels and support the less likeable guy who will not take your freedom and weapons eg for the good of the climate.

It would like to borrow Sage's brain...maybe this weekend. I need to sit down and just write down the anomalies and the "facts" that I THINK I have been told...in a list...time wise.

Starting even before the erasure of the Chinese Database on coronovirus, and its replacement.

Then the computer virus genome that replaced it...the one that maybe? C. Drosten used for PCR...because all we have had is that computer code...not the actual virus..

And then all the things that were changed/done/etc. including categorization/no autopsies/changed protocols, etc.

And just keep listing. So much does not make sense. But maybe in a list the anomalies will jump out at me...and I think Sage is right. The anomalies are important.

The only ways to confirm an anthrax diagnosis are:

To measure antibodies or toxin in blood.

To test directly for Bacillus anthracis in a sample. blood. skin lesion swab. spinal fluid. respiratory secretions.

The PCR's are a blank check....and that brings me back to another anomaly...Kary Mullis who said you can find anything in a PCR test died in August 2019 from "an unknown pneumonia".....he was surfing at his age, 72 I think, a very young 72...and of course, was vocal about FAuci being a fraud.....

I think the first is still an open question. Think you nailed down that PCR is indeed one of the ways it's tested, but probably we don't know the answer to the original question — bet nobody does. Though I've been rolling around the idea of anthrax as a coronavirus infectious clone factory, anthrax still bothers me because of the more common cutaneous infection route. I would think they would need to incorporate skin sores into the covid symptom pantheon to cover that up. It would have to have been very carefully introduced direct into people's lungs. Which I could guess is possible (ventilators in NY could be. Some few nasal swabs?)

Thinking the anthrax as pathogen doesn't fit as well as maybe anthrax as covid infectious clone launch vehicle maybe

The good thing is we don't have to worry about "they" stopping (bad grammar I know). We don't have to worry about "they" taking zero real action. That is because each individual takes the real action. I don't wait for TPTB to do something. I do something in my own life. I refuse to comply, with any of it. That is real action and the only thing that will affect my own life. If everybody did the same, society wouldn't have wait around hoping "they" will take real action to make a difference.

I didn't see that, but I'd already put Dr. Martin in my "dodgy character that pops up out of nowhere and dominates the narrative" bin soon after he appeared on the scene. I thought he might be useful at some point, but he has become more confusing as time goes on. I have a long list of these characters including Dr. McCullough (who buys prominent ads on Zerohedge to hawk his treatment protocols), Malone, etc that always seem to make a good first impression, but quickly show their true nature (I guess some of us are getting good at spotting this by now - we've had quite the training period!) I doubt there will be any such reparations or even much that can be done medically for the damaged. The next big thing will capture everyone's attention (fairly soon IMO) and how would you even compensate half the world's population for something on this scale? Even anger dissipates over time. Some may hold a grudge but it's usually too much trouble to pursue legal recompense.

And in the back of my mind I think....our governor is in deep with the resettled/fin/tech elite like Gates/Roux....so is the Nass courtroom drama just that....drama/side show)....

Malone sponsors Nass on his substack. Nass comes back this morning with an accounting of how her followers are growing

AND THEN speaks of how Roguski has now been folded in as a partner to create an umbrella organization as a watchdog for the WHO.

Am still processing this....but part of my initial reaction to her substack congratulating herself on this step struck me as CHD just co-opted the work of Roguski....like has been done to others. And yet, notice how this co-opting of components goes without a clear pronounced agenda as to how putting the pieces together will right the ship. Instead, feels like they are ensuring they are in the now relative to all facets of the resistance. And of course, I suspect people like Roguski who has seemingly been fueled by a passion to stop the power grab is eager to have his efforts acknowledged/joined as making a “difference” seems damn near impossible.

Question remains did he just get “incorporated” by the RFK managers/platform?

Roguski is a psyop to study but it's actually a reasonably juvenile one if one has a nascent understanding of international law and of psyops, as I do, and so spent six hours plus a full week educating him directly after his FIRST post screaming 'CAN YOU SMELL THE BURNING OF OUR CONSTITUTION?' One, our attention is diverted 180 degrees in the wrong direction. Two, we're being SNEERED at for getting it SO ludicrously wrong, totally proving what he claims to be fighting - 'misinformation, et al' and, just like all psyops, it's HIM spreading misinformation. The WHO CANNOT 'take over our Constitution.' No 'person in Geneva' can bind us to amendments OR a treaty. His whole schtick is laughably false but a clever one because it turns on arcane knowledge of international law that few understand ... but I see SO many 'international attorneys' who SHOULD have the basics totally on the bandwagon - Fuellmich, Shabnan, and creepily and most strangely, Francis Boyle. Corbett knows and reigned in Nass in their second video but still managed to get a dig in that video in at me. I wrote to him, I used to be a subscriber, and he ignored me. Just like David Bell, who has reigned in his language and in fact changed it completely based upon my input, and still sneers at me. How many people got injections they didn't want or need to keep their jobs or attend a university?

How many succumbed to the pressure just to enter a restaurant or get on a plane?

How many are injured or dead?

How many will die suddenly in the next few years from an unknown cause?

The threat of a mandate was enough to push companies to mandate jabs.

The sweet pot of cash was enough to push schools to mandate jabs.

Yes, the mandate for federal workers and the military was unconstitutional.

They still did it.

When do you think Christopher Wray will turn over that document to Rep Comer?

The United States may be harder to break, but there are myriad ways to subvert the constitution. Justice moves slowly. And only if the people in the judicial system still believe in the judicial system...and aren't bought or afraid.

I agree. The WHO repeatedly recommended against Remdesivir as a treatment for C19, which our "health authorities" saw fit to include in the hospital

The same people behind the past three years could use the pandemic treaty as cover to do what they want to do here, but I take your point. They don't need the WHO's permission to subvert our constitution.

And, to answer your question, it is our own who did everything they did to us under cover of 'covid.' So, one, it diverts our attention away from our own laws. Two, it's an ideological takeover that permeates our global supranational entities as well as what governs us currently, domestically. But if we're shrieking at Geneva over treaties and believing 'when they pass the amendments last May or this May or next May the UN is invading us,' who's looking at any of that? One last bit. That this entire MISINFORMATION is being propagated by US is fully delicious to 'them' and only strengthens 'the case against misinformation.' Using our own to do us in is the epitome of psychopaths, and psychopaths RUN psyops.

So the next question is, where does what's on your mind come from?

Right now what's on my mind is digging a flower bed - my assigned task for this afternoon. When it comes to flowers, I've notice that garden shops sell mostly annuals, in fact it's getting hard to find perennials, which I prefer for obvious reasons, my favourite being these: https://img.thrfun.com/img/089/707/dianthus_x1.jpg. Only the annual version is available locally, so I'll probably have to order them online.

Note the similarity between annual flowers and the flu vaccine. I can sell you both once a year, but with perennials, I can only sell them once. Parallelism.

Parallel lines, events, thoughts, intentions, etc. can continue side by side with no awareness of each other until a signal event causes them to converge, which is where we are now, and what I'm trying draw attention to by force of subtle suggestion. That's why I posted that fishing video. At first glance it seems superficial, but even without the lyrics it's really quite profound when you step back and analyze it, but to do so you have to step back.

OK, off to the garden now. I need to dig some earth to plant some flowers to attract some bees to make some honey for my morning toast! The great thing about bees is that most of the time they don't even know you're there, which makes it easy to steal their food. Try that with bears, however, and see what happens:)

It's hard to predict what a person is going to do if they don't know themselves.

There's a Big Bang Theory episode where Sheldon throws dice to make decisions. I do that with a coin toss, but not to make the decision itself, just to see how I feel about it once the choice has been made for me. About half the time I'm like, nawww I really don't want to do that, but I wasn't sure until it was staring me in the face.

Another excellent tool for non-decision making is the Magic 8 Ball.

<https://magic-8ball.com/>

I like the 8 Ball because it has all these cliches you can steal, like "outlook unclear" or "it is decidedly so." I mean, who says that, right? But if you work it into your material, you get some laughs, plus it illuminates the absurdity of decision making in general.

This works better than anything else I've found, and is also the best translation I've found. I call it "Winging It" in honour of the translator.

This is about the impossible project of killing and replacing God with human institutions. Philosophically, only God is aware of everything, and non-existence is the same as being ignored by God. But there is no way a human creation such as a corporation or a machine can be aware of everything. The reach is much smaller, and they can never touch the essence. There are always things that are ignored by humans and their arts.

All I remember is that he used the word "model" a fair bit... which may be a nod to the no virus camp. Unfortunately, I think this whole process of revelation is indeed going to happen in stages... step down fashion from raging virus hysteria to "they're made in a lab and we can do something to prevent this" and then possibly, maybe the next phase with Tom Cowan's new biology education. Obviously, these conflicting narratives can continue simultaneously, in parallel for some time depending on how strong the propaganda is for the former and how many people continue to go along with it. I've noticed a few signs in the alternative media (admittedly very subtle still) that individuals are tired of parroting the "lab created and released" narrative. Stew Peters was on Infowars recently brazenly announcing the total lack of evidence for sars cov 2 viral genome to an unusually quiet Alex Jones. Other characters seem unwilling to continue with the lab release story (because they know it's a turkey?) and have reverted to earlier stances when they would openly proclaim that the whole "thing" was fake - a scamdemic - and that "victims" were just suffering from a mix of flu symptoms and whatever tainted medical treatment they were receiving at the time followed by an aggressive PCR testing campaign.

I see what you see. The shift that is happening doesn't feel like something to look forward to. Nazi culture is rampant in the medical profession. They become deluded by their own sense of importance, becoming demigods of delusion. Reason and wisdom depart and they become victims of their own propaganda lead by that hand that feeds them: Government and Big Pharma. Recently, an acquaintance said to me :
"Remember this life is short, but we have the whole of eternity before us, as we are part of it, immortal beings, from life to life, from one plane of existence to another, as we awake from our sleep to the higher dimensions. We are divine being in the making." In the moments of deep sadness, when I feel strong longing for the world before Bioweapon release I refer back to those words. Often, I just cry and hope that someone, somewhere is influencing this world to become a better place for future generations. And I do pray that my acquaintance knew what he was talking about.

Whereas the warriors, the truthers, the anti-jabbers, the enlightened ones—when they wake up every morning they fire themselves up and go at the Monster like gladiators?

I'm sorry to have to report that the vast majority of humanity have been soundly asleep or under hypnosis since the get go, and they are destined to remain that way indefinitely. So for the perps to wheel out disinfo agents wearing bowties or sporting heavy beards in an attempt to further sedate them looks like massive overkill.

Those of us who are awake to this project, or who think we are, face massive practical constraints on taking effective countermeasures. The mice discussing how to bell the cat had more scope for action than we do. In addition, we have been mostly reduced to being spectators.

This may change in future, but at the moment most of us still feel we have too much to lose by actively opposing the project. Refusing to be injected and abandoning our smartphones I wouldn't count as active opposition, but they can be considered two ways of resisting one's personal assimilation into the Borg.

It is often said that our present world resembles the dystopias described in Brave New World and Nineteen Eighty-Four, but I also feel there is an element of The Time Machine in play. In that story, the Time Traveller finds himself in a world inhabited by two humanoid species, the Eloi and the Morlocks. He learns that the Eloi live a life of leisure and pleasure, but are also helpless and without ambition. He also discovers that the Morlocks live underground and come out at night to hunt the Eloi for food. The Time Traveller eventually discovers that the cannibalistic Morlocks are descendants of the working class and the childlike Eloi are the descendants of the upper class.

Our current world seems to have the features of a reverse Time Machine world in which the upper or ruling class are doing the cannibalizing and the working and middle classes are being cannibalized. In the story, the Eloi were hypnotized or programmed to stop what they were doing and go down into the underground caverns whenever the sirens sounded. It was a Pavloivan reflex in them and there was no stopping them. This, for me, is very similar to the behavior of the bulk of ordinary people—the normies—reflexively embracing the "deadly pandemic" mantra and the "safe and effective" vaccine mantra and lining up to get their injections without a second thought as to what they were letting themselves in for.

I'm not trying to get into the "mass formation" debate here, but just want to point out the effectiveness of the propaganda and the various forms of nudging and cattle prodding that got a majority to roll up their sleeves. And I am certain that this feat could never have been pulled off in Europe or America half a century ago. So I agree with your supposition about the education system being hijacked and I also expect that quite a bit of social engineering has been brought to bear to get the masses to act more like good Eloi.

Eddy, I know you are addicted to regular doses of Schad, so here's a little something to help you get through the weekend. Cheers!

Call me naive but I just struggle with understanding the angle of a fakester, or complicit, controlled-opposition character, bringing all of this to light with the public. He still seems to be helping to paint the picture of the completely devious and evil multi-decade scheming to create a "plandemic" and is 100% accurate in his assessment that the end goal was to shoot up the population with their bioweapon. No? The misleading novel virus claim aside...what does it benefit the genocidal/depopulation cabal, to have someone like Dr. Martin bringing to awareness the architected plandemic and mRNA bioweapon? If he's fake, why is he doing this? His efforts help partially awaken and build the resistance to the overall tyranny and globalist agenda, no? I just don't get it...who to follow and trust.

Great, but how is this take substantiated with anything beyond speculation?

In theory, wouldn't it be much easier to believe that you Sage Hana are controlled opposition as you are constantly casting aspersions upon anyone with any traction in the movement against COVID Authoritarianism?

Does it even matter if someone believes in viruses or not? I think whatever the cause, anyone who takes issue with the government's response to this "stimuli," whether it's real or propaganda, is at least somewhat on my side here, I don't see the need to cut people out when I have no evidence as to why.

Personally, I don't care whether someone believes in a virus or not. That's almost completely irrelevant. If you haven't noticed somewhere around 50-80% of the people in any given Western city or nation still can't even fathom a story outside of the narrative of "a pangolin kissed a bat's but in a Wuhan wet market". Speculating that someone within the movement is a spook because they have worked with the government extensively in an unrelated fashion is not proof. It is, at worst, suspicious but it isn't proof of anything. Taking thoughts like these as seriously as hard evidence is the definition of paranoia, a trait which threatens to seize any movement and splinter it to shreds when from within and without anyone necessarily meaning to.

I completely get the need to scrutinize. We need competent speakers leading this movement away from NWO Totalitarianism and iatrogenocide. I'm sure controlled opposition exists and could very well be rampant. I also don't know that I believe there is a virus either, or at least not anything like we've been lead to believe. But I refuse to let a hunch lead me to such strong conclusions.

I will admit I find David Martin a little weird (perhaps conspicuous or precocious is a more accurate word) and his sporadic presence tends to punctuate rather than lead which can seem odd in of itself. But I don't believe that this in any way constitutes anything resembling actual evidence against his credibility. We're all only human and not everyone is going to believe the same exact version of the COVID narrative as you--I think we all have to get used to that.

Also, government whistleblowers do exist particularly when they're seen as harmless hacks by 90% of people, not unlike David "Bowtie" Martin here. Most Jimmy Fallon viewers would see Martin as the craziest lunatic ever let loose on Facebook video--and not for any reason you've outlined here. Let's not entirely lose sight of how absolutely screwed up the mainstream brain is here while we play True Scotsman with people who are guilty of the crime of giving us a funny feeling we can't quite place. This movement could very well splinter because of this sort of excessive, evidence-less division. And not because of the presence of a few characters that may still believe in a virus.

Just my two cents, take it or leave it.

@Sage - Just to let you know, while walking the chip aisle at the grocery store yesterday, I had an overwhelming urge to purchase a bag of Doritos. 🤔 😊 i'm off subject here, kinda sorta, but wanted to point you to this graphic heavy website dealing with the year 1971. something happened. decisions were made and plans were implemented. after reading about the 1969 revelations you've re-revealed, there just might be some tie-in:

Fight!?! The SOP for dealing with everything perceived as problematic - disease, aging, discrimination, peace (you name it). It's almost always futile and self-defeating. Boils down to doing battle with your shadow. Seriously now, if you want to overcome your shadow, then switch on the light.

Thanks for the links. It will likely take me a couple of days to find time to look at everything and I'll have to do some thinking about your comparison of Kingston v. Latypova. But Kingston has been pushing the law aspect...that sheriffs can confiscate these bioweapon injection products and should do so. But, I'm not so sure she fully understands that just because they may be able to do that; and, in her mind SHOULD do that, they might be pressured to not do so. Latypova, on the other hand, as you point out, very much operates with the understanding that what will happen in the real world may not be what you might expect or want. - And, then we have a larger group of people, who include Dr. Ana Mihalcea (MD, PhD) and Dr Joseph Sansome (PhD), who are starting to be successful in getting counties within certain states to ban the use of the Covid-19 jabs. This is something that Kingston, if I remember correctly, first started in Collier County, FL. And. now, Mihalcea just found the bioweapon nanotechnology in Sansone's insulin; and, someone else has supposedly found that technology in injectable dental anaesthetics, which should tell us it's going to be, if not already, in practically every injectable. Anyone considering having dental work done, might want to forego that for a while.

I will certainly enjoy Latypova slicing and dicing Kirsch. That will be fun. (-:

Martin has put out a lot of compelling information and provides receipts. He was the first to name names and pointed at DOD. He also identified ANSAR as a major player.

Indeed.

Then why use such passive language NOW at Brussels?

Are we at war?

Is the problem HUMANITY?

Instead of a circus in Congress and conferences about the gain-of-function, we need a COMMISSION to investigate the TOOLS, MECHANISMS and PERSONS involved in graphene and nanotechnology crimes on humanity, in this GENOCIDE.

Cannot name the person who deleted his comment out of respect... but he is a big player...and his comment would rile the dirty tricks brigade of DARPA.. with serious consequences... but spooks like David Martin seem to be offering distractive theories to steer the sheep to another cliff top.
